SYMBOLIC SANDRAG dike against disaster shows township and borough percentages of $16,712.20 collected against the $19,290 Monroe County Red Cross quota. This leaves balance of $2,577.80 still to be donated.

Red Cross Nears Goal Of Drive

CLIFFORD CRAMER, campaign chairman, urged his workers to diligently complete current Red Cross drive solicitation "as soon as possible" at a report meeting held last night.

With $16,712.20 in the Red Cross treasury as of last night, Cramer predicted that the $19,290 goal is clearly in sight providing late givers and workers alike "finish the job of filling the Red Cross dike with dollars in this last call phase of the 1956 fund drive."

Frank S. LaBar, special gifts chairman, is forwarding last call personal reminders to special gifts donors who have not yet responded to "this most important appeal for the Red Cross."

Individual Spending Shows Increase

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—The Census Bureau said today that state spending rose last year to a level of about $127 per man, woman and child on an average throughout the nation.

General expenditures, amounting to $17,476,000,000, were up by 8.8 per cent from the previous year.

With other specialized types of spending, state outlays totaled $20,357,000,000. These included $2,411,000,000 for unemployment, retirement and other state insurance trusts and some 770 million dollars by liquor stores operating in 16 states.

Revenues Up
State revenues also were up. General revenues, at $16,194,000,000, were higher by 5.7 per cent than in 1954. Other sources, including collections by insurance trusts and liquor stores, raised total state revenues to $19,667,000,000.

Thus the states, in general, outspent their income by something like a billion dollars on a comparison of general expenditures and general revenues. Total spending outran total revenues by approximately 600 million dollars.

The report by the census bureau was for fiscal years of the states which ended at various times in 1955, mostly at the middle of the calendar year.

General revenues averaged $109.00 per capita. Wyoming was high with $202.30.

New Jersey, with $65.19, had the lowest general revenue per capita. Pennsylvania was next lowest at $76.00.

Seeks Half Share

PITTSBURGH, April 2 (AP)—The attractive widow of Edgar J. Kaufman, multi-millionaire department store executive, went to court today to try and get half of his $10,199,285 estate.

"It is good to see you all. See you next year."

This last remark started some political conjecturing — was it confidence being expressed by a man who is up for re-election? Or was it just a friendly invitation extended to a happy, cheering throng on a sunny day after Easter?

Arm in arm, they posed smiling for the camera fans in the crowd, ranged behind a temporary paling and wire fence along the curve of the south driveway.

As they strolled down the fence line, the President picked up first a lavender egg from an out-

Four Perish In Seattle Plane Crash

SEATTLE, April 2 (AP)—Four persons were known dead, one was missing and 33 named survivors were rescued today after a vibrating luxury airliner's emergency crash-landing on Puget Sound.

The Northwest Orient Airlines Stratocruiser developed its fatal case of aerial shakes a few minutes after its takeoff from the Seattle-Tacoma International Airport on a flight with New York as its ultimate destination.

The pilot decided on a water gamble with the crippled craft instead of the apparently greater one of trying to return to the airport over land.

The victims included a Chinese woman and boy. The plane's 31 passengers included six children.

Second
It was the second major airline tragedy in the nation within 13 hours—but the first for Northwest Orient since 1951 to claim a life.

The other air disaster was near Pittsburgh, Pa., last night. It also was on a takeoff. It killed 22 persons and injured 14.

The Stratocruiser remained afloat for about 15 minutes after the mishap, giving all aboard a chance to escape to the wings. It had taken off at 8:06 a.m.

The airline listed one crew member as missing late today. He was David V. Razez, Seattle, a flight service attendant.

The revised report raised the total aboard to 38 from the earlier listing of 37.

The 33 survived by clinging to the wings of the four-engine, double-deck plane for the several minutes it remained afloat. Then they hung on to the many cushions that dotted the frigid water.

There were no rubber life rafts because the plane, headed for Chicago and New York via Portland, Ore., was not on an over-water route.

The group of 31 passengers included eight Chinese immigrants from Hong Kong—three adults and five children. They had arrived from the Orient on another plane. None of them could understand English.

The coroner's office here listed these dead:

Dr. George Hook, Tacoma, Wash., whose wife resides in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Tsui Kong Lin, about 55, a Chinese woman from Hong Kong who was reported en route to New York to meet her husband, and her son, Yee Soon Foon, 5, identified as her son. An airline spokesman said there was no explanation of the variation in names. The boy had a tag on his coat: "I am from Hong Kong, Destination New York."

Paul Wehrman, Seattle, a Boeing Airplane Co. engineer.

The pilot, Capt. Robert Heard, 38, Seattle, said the plane began vibrating severely after it had been airborne about three minutes. The takeoff was from the Seattle-Tacoma International Airport, not far from Puget Sound.

Heard said the trouble developed at about 1,000 feet. He decided to "ditch" the big plane instead of taking the risk of trying to turn back to the airport.

The coldness of the water, estimated between 40 and 45 degrees, may have caused the victims to slip to their deaths because of numb fingers.

Parents Of Boy Chewed By Pet Draw Sentences

HYATTSVILLE, Md., April 2 (AP)—The parents of two-month-old Thomas Perry, who was attacked by his crib March 13 by a pet animal, were sentenced today to 10-day jail terms on child neglect charges.

Appeals
Sentenced with the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Perry, was Winslow Prescott, 50, handyman who had been caring for the child in the Perry home at nearby Beltsville. They gave notice of appeals and were freed on $500 bonds each.

The pet, a South American margay, had chewed the toes from the child's left foot. The infant is reported in serious condition in Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore.

He chuckled a baby under the chin; he said "Hello, folks," and he warned some boys about leaning too hard on the fence. Down the line he went, hatless, in a brown suit and tie. Mrs. Eisenhower, in a red suit and black seal stole, strolled with him.

Son-In-Law To Vote Democratic

NEW YORK, April 2 (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman today vowed that his future son-in-law, E. Clifton Daniel, "will vote from now on, and vote Democratic."

Truman, during his early morning walk, made the "promise" when asked about the nonvoting record of Daniel, who is to marry Margaret Truman at Independence, Mo., later this month.

Commissioners Approve Fund Move

TRANSFER OF $15,000 to Monroe County's depleted general fund was approved by the county commissioners yesterday so that this week's payroll—and other expenses—could be met.

The board agreed to issue a certificate of indebtedness to the physicians fee account for this amount after learning that only $1,800 remained in the general fund last Friday. The money is to be repaid within a year.

However, Board Chairman John R. Lesoine afterwards made it absolutely clear that the county may have to borrow upwards to $70,000 to meet general expenses until tax monies become available Sept. 1.

"I don't see how we can get by without increasing county taxes this year," said Lesoine. "Although the commission is seeking to keep the boost as low as possible, I don't think we'll be able to clear the situation in one year."

Eisenhower Wants 'Good Farm Bill'

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he wants "to get a good farm bill and to get it promptly."

Eisenhower made the statement in connection with his signing of two special agriculture bills passed by Congress.

He would save farmers an estimated 60 million dollars a year by exempting them from the 2-cent-a-gallon federal gasoline tax on gas used in farming.

"Relieving the farmer of the federal tax on purchases of gasoline used on the farm will lower production costs and help alleviate the cost-price squeeze," Eisenhower said.

The other new law raises from 50 million dollars to 60 million the money for the school milk program for the fiscal year ending June 30. It extends the program for two more years and authorizes up to 75 million a year for those two years. Eisenhower said of it:

Benefits Children
"This forward looking program greatly benefits the health of our children... an excellent example of how we can make constructive use of our nation's abundance by developing expanded outlets."

Speaking generally, Eisenhower said:

"These two bills are parts of a nine-point program I sent to Congress on Jan. 9 of this year. They constitute an important step forward in our agricultural program. The next step is to get a good farm bill and to get it promptly."

A conference committee is now wrestling with the job of adjusting Senate and House versions of a new over-all farm bill. Both versions contain features Eisenhower has frowned on, notably a return to rigid price supports.

Eisenhower's statement today did not define "a good farm bill" but he has described the legislation passed by the Senate as unworkable, and likely to bury the farmer under new crop surpluses.

Rep. Amden (R-Ill.) accused Democrats today of "deliberately trying to write a farm bill that the President will necessarily have to veto to protect the welfare of our farmers and the country as a whole."

India Free To Trade

NEW DELHI, India, April 2 (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru said today India would buy arms from Russia, Britain or wherever it chose.

He said India had inquired in Russia about military and civilian planes and lately had ordered military supplies from Britain in a followup of discussions about aircraft and tanks.

Nehru made these disclosures at a news conference when asked about a London report that his government had turned down a half-price Soviet offer of jet bombers and ordered such jet bombers from Britain instead.

With the British, he said, "we discussed buying tanks and aircraft in the last two years, and it is true we recently finalized details of an order."

Not Committed
"But," he added, "we are not committed or tied down to any country for arms. It is for India to decide where, when and what arms to buy."

"Russia has made no offer to us, but we made inquiries in Russia. The inquiries did not concern actual arms as such but military and civil aircraft."

Searchers last night halted their work after finding 21 bodies, convinced no more were in the plane.

Youngest to die in the crash was 10-year-old Alan Meyer who was returning to his home in Bethlehem, Pa., after spending Easter with an uncle in nearby Beaver, Pa.

The towering tail assembly and a portion of the wing were the only recognizable fragments of the wreckage. A motor and a wheel assembly dropped off before the fuselage came to a stop.

Corner William D. McClelland of Allegheny County, said he will conduct an inquest at a later date. The airline and the Civil Aeronautics Board also are investigating.

TWA officials said a preliminary investigation indicated no engine trouble.

80 Per Cent Of Salk Vaccine For Private Use In State

HARRISBURG, April 2 (AP)—The state Health Department said today that 80 per cent of Pennsylvania's Salk antipolio vaccine allotment is being distributed for private inoculations.

Dr. Berwyn F. Mattison, state health secretary, said the balance is being used for free inoculations of children and others who "would be under a hardship if they had to pay for them."

"The distribution of the vaccine in Pennsylvania is on a 4-1 ratio favoring those giving private inoculations," Dr. Mattison said, adding:

"This is one of the best ratios for private inoculations in the country."

Denies Report
The secretary denied reports that quantities of the serum go unused after it is distributed for free use.

"This is certainly not the case as far as I know and I wish any county medical heads who know of such cases would report them to me so they could be corrected," Mattison said.

"Certainly, in some small instances some of the free serum goes unused. This happens when a number of vaccinations are given and the number just doesn't happen to fit evenly the amount of shots in each container," he explained.

The serum, he explained, comes packed several shots to a container.

"In cases of this sort, we may waste a shot or two but certainly no appreciable amount," he said.

The serum, if not used after a certain time from the date of its manufacture, loses its potency.

Students Clash With British On Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus, April 2 (AP)—Students clashed with British security forces in one Cyprus city and bombs exploded in another today in new violence on the revolt-torn eastern Mediterranean island.

There were casualties to civilians and among the security forces but no deaths. The British again imposed a curfew on one of the trouble spots and closed two schools in the other in an effort to control disorders stemming from demands of the Greek-speaking Greeks.

The curfew was imposed at night on the British couple Limassol after exploding bombs and a 12-year-old Cypriot girl. The youngster was reported in a grave condition at a hospital.

Slain
A British civilian was slain yesterday in Limassol, south port city where the British say the Communists are strong. Three bombs exploded there today.

The student disorders flared in Paphos, another port city. They set back the British efforts to control violence from that element of the population.

For weeks almost all the schools on Cyprus have been closed, either by government decree because of disorders or by the school boards themselves as anti-British gestures. About 71,000 students have been affected.

Last week a minor back-to-school movement began — and British officials openly considered it as one ray of light in the darkness.

Two of the schools which had just reopened were the Paphos Gymnasium and the Paphos College — where most of the rioting took place today. Both were ordered closed again "in the interests of public safety."

The clash involved several hundred students from 12 to 18 years old, riot police and British troops.

A government spokesman said two or three Greek Orthodox priests were seen among the pupils.

Kefauver Makes Appeal
MILWAUKEE, April 2 (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) made a dramatic last minute appeal today to Wisconsin Republican voters to show their displeasure with the administration's farm policies by crossing over to the Democratic ranks.

The presidential aspirant made his appeal on the eve of Wisconsin's presidential preference primary as he prepared to engage in what amounts to a popularity contest with President Eisenhower.

National convention delegates pledged to Kefauver constitute the only slate on the Democratic ballot in the Wisconsin election. On the Republican ballot there are two 30 member slates—one pledged to President Eisenhower and the other to John Chapple, Ashland publisher. There can be no write-ins either for President or vice president.

Kefauver made his appeal in a telegram released by the State Democratic Office.

Twine, Shoes Specifically Exempted

HARRISBURG, April 2 (AP)—House leaders tonight proposed amendments to the sales tax law to make certain the 3 per cent levy applies to umbrellas and both men's and women's pocketbooks.

Rep. Readinger, Democratic floor leader, said the amendments will be formally submitted tomorrow.

The proposed changes, to carry Republican sponsorship as did the sales tax law, were forwarded to Readinger with the approval of Rep. Smith, GOP floor leader.

"All the amendments are designed to reflect what was intended by the Legislature at the time the law was passed," Readinger said.

Twine
He added that twine and wrapping paper will be specifically exempted from the tax as will be shoes.

Pocketbooks and umbrellas will be added to the luggage clause of the law.

"It will take in any type of pocket book, not just leather ones," Readinger explained.

In addition he said that other proposed amendments, such as those actually exempting manufacturing machinery and limiting the tax to the retail level, "will be put in by the Senate."

"They made the errors over there and I would like to see them make the corrections," he added. Readinger said he didn't think the proposed amendments would make any change in the estimated 322 million dollar yield of the tax.

Fairly Close
"It will remain fairly close to what it was because the estimates were made on the basis that machinery was out," he said.

The House met for a short routine session with few members present. The Senate returns to work tomorrow.

"Tomorrow we will dive into the calendar with all the vigor at our command," Readinger promised in repeating his belief that an April 14 final adjournment is still possible.

He said he would know by Tuesday whether the deadline will be made. "I still see no reason why we can't pass all the bills considered absolutely essential by Saturday, April 14."

When questioned about his plan to try to attach a graduated income tax to a Senate-approved constitutional amendment for a Korean bonus, Readinger said, "There are going to be some changes made."

Refuses
He refused to elaborate before he presented his new idea to the Democratic caucus tomorrow but it was indicated he may be thinking of substituting another tax for the graduated income tax.

Meanwhile, Chairman Wade (R—Cumberland) of the Senate Highways Committee predicted his group would refuse to accept a House-passed plan giving cities a larger share of state road aid.

He fixed tomorrow for a meeting on the bill that would allocate an additional 12 million dollars a year in local road aid.

Bethlehem Strike Ends
BETHLEHEM, April 2 (AP)—A wildcat strike of some 300 blooming mill employees of the Bethlehem Steel Co. ended today.

The men decided to go back to work after a mass meeting of the workers in the steelworkers' hall.

The men walked out last Thursday in a dispute over pay rates. The company said the walkout resulted in a loss of 40,000 tons of ingot steel.

5,000 Attend White House Egg Rolling

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—A smiling President Eisenhower welcomed "folks" to the traditional Easter egg rolling on the White House lawn today and told them:

"It is good to see you all. See you next year."

This last remark started some political conjecturing — was it confidence being expressed by a man who is up for re-election? Or was it just a friendly invitation extended to a happy, cheering throng on a sunny day after Easter?

A crowd estimated at almost 5,000 covered the new spring green of the White House lawn when

Four Men Involved In Copper Theft Sentenced To One-Year

Time To Be Served In County Jail

FOUR MEN involved in the Feb. 10 theft of $1,200 worth of top-grade copper scrap from the Patterson-Kelley Co. yesterday were sentenced to serve one-year in the Monroe County Jail.

Sentenced to the jail terms were Clair L. Metzgar, 29, Bushkill; Walter Carl Whitmore, 31, of Delaware Water Gap; William G. Miller, 31, of 20 Washington St., East Stroudsburg, and Elmer Wildrick, 31, of East Stroudsburg, RD 2.

Fines

President Judge Fred W. Davis also ordered the quartet to pay $100 fines apiece, the costs of prosecution, and to make restitution. All four entered guilty pleas.

State To Buy Monroe, Wayne Land

HARRISBURG, April 2 (AP)—The state Fish Commission said today it will purchase a 350-acre tract in Wayne and Monroe counties, including a 250-acre lake, for use by Pennsylvania's anglers.

William Voigt Jr., executive director of the commission, said the tract adjoins the Tobyhanna Military Reservation now owned by the Department of Forests and Waters.

Reimbursed

Voigt said the commission will be reimbursed for three-fourths of the $40,000 purchase price through the federal excise tax on fishing tackle.

Adams Speaks On Congress

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—Sherman Adams, President Eisenhower's top assistant, said today he is sure that Eisenhower "so far has been disappointed in the accomplishments of this Congress."

Adams spoke of Republican charges, disputed by Democrats, that the Democratic-controlled Congress has been a "do-nothing" Congress this election year. He added:

"It's quite natural that our opposing party doesn't want to see any appreciable accomplishments on our part at this session. . . ."

"We have some very constructive suggestions—legislative suggestions—which the President has made, and certainly they're entitled to better consideration than they have or than they are apparently going to get."

Interviewed

Adams was interviewed by Rep. Keating (R-NY) on a television program filmed for Upper New York State stations. He did not specify what Eisenhower proposals he thinks have been held up.

Sen. Bender (R-Ohio) was one of the first to voice the "do-nothing" accusation at the Democrats, a charge used by former President Truman against the Republican-controlled Congress of 1947-1948 in his 1948 election campaign.

Bender drew a sharp retort from Sen. Morse (D-Ore). Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas produced statistics to show the Senate had passed 412 bills through last Wednesday, although most of them were minor. This compared with 140 in the first three months of 1955.

Adams had warm praise for Vice President Nixon and said nobody could have been more loyal to the President in his policies.

The presidential aide said studies are under way which indicate the need for some strengthening of the President's administrative staff, whether by creating an "administrative vice president" or some other title.

Adams described the President as "in fine shape" and said he has carried on all the duties of his office since his illness except some of the "irrelevancies," such as social duties which have been passed on to the staff.

Services Held For Minister

SCRANTON, PA., April 2 (AP)—Funeral services will be held Tuesday for the Rev. Dr. B. L. C. Baer, pastor of the Jackson St. Baptist Church of West Scranton and dean of the Protestant clergy of Lackawanna County. He died yesterday at his home.

Dr. Baer was in the ministry for 52 years, and was pastor of the West Scranton church since 1920.

New Charge Against McEnroe

BANGOR — An additional charge of drunken driving has been preferred against Paul H. McEnroe, 32, of 174 N. Eighth St.

McEnroe was arrested last Thursday on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident after his car sideswiped another auto, driven

Stevenson Choice Of State Delegates

REP. FRANCIS E. Walter, of Easton, is the only Pennsylvania delegate-at-large to the Democratic national convention who is on record as favoring Gov. Averell Harriman of New York for the presidential nomination.

Harriman, while not an active candidate for the bid, is rated a good bet for the nomination in the event Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver battle to a deadlock at the Chicago convention.

Stevenson's name will be the only one on the presidential preferential ballot at the Democratic primary election April 24, although voters can write in the names of other candidates. President Eisenhower's name is the only one on the Republican ballot.

Committees

The at-large delegates were chosen by the state committees. District delegates will be elected at the primary from 30 districts. The Republicans will elect 60, the Democrats 12.

At present, Stevenson is the choice of 15 of the 28 Democratic delegates-at-large. Three others indicated a preference for him. Mrs. Emma Guffey Miller, national committee member, and Matthew McCloskey Sr., fund-raising committee chairman, were not available. Walter is the other delegate.

Stevenson backers include Gov. George M. Leader, Joseph M. Barr, state chairman; Genevieve Blatt, secretary of internal affairs; Harry Boyer, a state CIO president; Budget Secretary Andrew M. Bradley, Joseph S. Clark Jr., party candidate for U. S. Senate; State Senator John H. Dent; James A. Finnegan, national chairman of the Stevenson Campaign Committee; Lt. Gov. Roy E. Furman; Albert M. Greenfield, one of the biggest Democratic fund-raisers in the state.

Also Louis M. John, state vice chairman; Pittsburgh Mayor David Lawrence, national committeeman; Edward J. Lynett Jr., Scranton publisher; Francis J. Myers, former U. S. senator, and Maurice Splain Jr., former chairman.

The GOP delegates were all for Eisenhower.

The Democrats expressed no choice for vice president, but on the Republican side the vote was for Nixon. He was favored by U.S. Sens. James H. Duff and Edward Martin. State GOP Chairman Miles Horst; Mrs. Leffler; national GOP committeewoman Mrs. Katherine G. Murdock; and national committeeman G. Mason O'Leary.

Former State GOP Chairman M. Harvey Taylor, now president pro tempore of the State Senate; Mrs. Martindale and Samuel E. Ewing, an RCA executive who served under Eisenhower in Europe, were undecided on the Nixon candidacy.

Joseph N. Pew Jr., Philadelphia oilman, was on a vacation and could not be reached.

Knights Of Columbus Meet

The meeting will open at 8 p.m. A guest speaker will be present, and plans will be formulated for a fund-raising campaign.

by John H. Smith of Pen Argyl. The mishap occurred in Pen Argyl.

The latest charge was preferred by Justice of the Peace Raymond A. Traves. McEnroe posted $300 bond on the new complaint. He furnished a similar amount on the other charge.

German Woman To Become Resident Of Stroudsburg

A NEW RESIDENT of the Stroudsburgs will arrive in New York City this week aboard the U. S. Navy transport The General Langfitt.

She is Charlotte Wendt, 53, a German refugee, one of 1,261 being brought to this country under the Refugee Relief Act—emergency legislation—and the Immigration and Nationality Act—basic immigration law.

Endorsement

Miss Wendt, a typist, is being brought here through endorsement of the Lutheran Refugee Service and under sponsorship of Miss Theima Shaw, of Phillips St., Stroudsburg.

The Langfitt left Bremerhaven, Germany, March 26 on its 11th crossing of the Atlantic Ocean under charter to the Intergovernmental Committee for European Migration.

It is due to arrive in New York late Thursday or early Friday.

Bangor Councilmen Delay Action

BANGOR — Borough Council last night delayed action on a petition calling for the installation of a traffic light at the intersection of Market and Eighth Sts.

The petition was signed by 500 citizens.

Council withheld action pending further investigation by its safety committee, when it was learned that engineers would be here tomorrow to look over the situation.

Instruction

The safety committee also was instructed to readvertise for bids for a traffic signal.

This action was taken by a 6-5 vote. Dissenting councilmen requested immediate action because they believed a hazardous condition does exist at the location, which is used as a school crossing during daytime hours.

Burgess Hayden Pritchard suggested that council consider hiring retired Police Chief Joseph Grigg to direct traffic at the intersection during the hours when youngsters are using the crossing. Griggs would be hired only until council takes definite action of the traffic light proposal. Pritchard explained.

Stevenson backers include Gov. George M. Leader, Joseph M. Barr, state chairman; Genevieve Blatt, secretary of internal affairs; Harry Boyer, a state CIO president; Budget Secretary Andrew M. Bradley, Joseph S. Clark Jr., party candidate for U. S. Senate; State Senator John H. Dent; James A. Finnegan, national chairman of the Stevenson Campaign Committee; Lt. Gov. Roy E. Furman; Albert M. Legion To Stage Ball

GEORGE N. KEMP Post, American Legion, and its Ladies Auxiliary will stage a post commandery and past presidents ball Saturday, April 14, in the Legion Home, East Stroudsburg.

The event will honor officers of the two organizations who have served since the post was founded in 1919. A dinner at 6:30 p.m. will be followed by dancing and a floor show.

Public

The affair is open to the public. Anyone wanting tickets may contact Mrs. Joyce Reisenwitz, Delaware Water Gap, or Donald Gage, East Stroudsburg. Tickets also will be on sale at the post home. Deadline for reservations is April 11.

The auditorium, where the dinner and dance will take place, has been rehabilitated since the flood.

Former State GOP Chairman M. Harvey Taylor, now president pro tempore of the State Senate; Mrs. Martindale and Samuel E. Ewing, an RCA executive who served under Eisenhower in Europe, were undecided on the Nixon candidacy.

Joseph N. Pew Jr., Philadelphia oilman, was on a vacation and could not be reached.

Fingerlings To Be Stocked

STATE Fish Commission will distribute 100 cans of fingerling trout for stocking small tributary streams in the area at 11 tomorrow morning at the State Highway Department building.

Persons interested in obtaining these fish may be present at the designated time with suitable containers for transporting the fish to open waters. The fingerlings are to be placed in tributaries which are not posted, and do not flow into major posted trout streams.

Under no circumstances are fingerlings to be stocked in ponds and lake irrespective of size without first obtaining the approval of the fish commission.

Those obtaining the fish will be required to fill out forms listing the names of the water areas in which they will be placed. Information provided on these forms will aid the commission in determining a true picture of the disposition of the fingerlings.

$400 Damage In Accident

DAMAGES totaling $400 occurred yesterday afternoon when a car crashed into a truck on Route 611, three miles south of Stroudsburg.

State Police said Wilson W. Merriam, 76, of Stroudsburg RD3, was pulling his truck back onto the highway after mailing a letter, when the vehicle was struck by a car operated by Dorothy Harvey, 45, Scranton RD1.

The woman was to see her family doctor for treatment for minor injuries received in the collision, State Police said.

Light Vote Expected In Primary

MOST OF experts are predicting an extremely light vote in the primary election this year. Yes, and those experts are probably right again in spite of the fact that we elect a president in 1956. So, Let's Fool the Experts!

Think of it! Less than 50 per cent of our registered voters are expected to cast a ballot. Even worse — more than two million eligible people in Pennsylvania aren't even registered. In other words, those two million couldn't vote in this primary election if their lives depended on it. And believe me, with matters as they are in this old world, such a thing could easily come to pass.

Possibility

Some day our lives just may depend on the way we vote this year and in years to come. Wars themselves are often the result of politics. Bad politics, that is! And that's the kind we get when we fail to show any interest in our own government.

There's not much we can do now about those who didn't register. We'll worry about them after the primary.

Let's make sure we get out on April 24 and express our choice. There are many candidates and many issues. Look them over! Study them! Then vote to suit yourself.

Poconos Expected To Follow Fast Time Schedule Metropolitan Areas Adopt

The matter of whether to adopt Daylight Saving Time, and for how long, is up for its annual airing.

While it's a foregone conclusion that the Poconos will start operating on fast time on April 29, there has been little sentiment expressed to date on extending it through October.

For years, DST began the last Sunday in April and ended the last Sunday in September. This schedule was agreeable to most people, although many farmers expressed their displeasure in no uncertain terms.

Fast time was carried through October for the first time in the Northeastern states last year after the pattern had been set in a number of other sections of the country.

Some cities have indicated they will follow the same plan this year. Many, however, have not indicated a preference yet, possibly awaiting an expression from the citizenry.

There are many parents who feel it's better to go back to Standard Time in September. They argue that their children need the extra hour of darkness for rest and school home-work.

This viewpoint runs counter to that held by sport-minded people and others who spend the early evenings in the out-of-doors. Perhaps a compromise, calling for Daylight Time to end October 15, would be in order.

Under Pennsylvania law, borough councils cannot decree a change in time. So, officially at least, they operate on Standard Time, but set their work schedules ahead one hour during the period when Fast time is in effect.

A region such as this which caters to the vacation trade finds it practical to go along with large cities like New York and Philadelphia. Thus it can be presumed that whatever the metropolitan sections do will be followed here.

Wage-Earners Enjoying Remarkable Degree Of Price Stability At Present

Is a man with the same income today that he had two years ago as well off as he was then?

Possibly. It depends on how he spends his money, and to some extent on his position in society and what he regards as essentials.

Practically all foods are cheaper in the markets—meat and poultry substantially cheaper. Clothing is a little lower in cost, and housing—except for the newest—about the same. So the man who spends most of his pay on these basic necessities is at least as well off as he was two years ago, and may be better off.

Luxuries cost more, even tobacco and beverages. Many manufactured products cost more, some considerably more. One of the chief complaints of farmers, for example, is that new machinery has gone up while their crop prices have gone down.

On the whole, though, we have had a remarkable degree of price stability, and should be grateful for it.

George Sokolsky Says...

Life Of Convalescing Person Not So Easy Under Restrictions Decried By Physicians

It is easier to be sick than to convalesce which is a fancy word for hanging around, feeling pretty good and waiting to be told that a normal life is again possible.

During convalescence, there is an unholy conspiracy among the doctors and your family to turn a formerly very sick person into a permanent invalid. That is one of the results of excessive kindness and careful watching. It also explains why some children become juvenile delinquents. The "Thou shalt nots" can become so oppressive.

Just now, I personally suffer from the "Thou shalt not eat" curse. I have been put on 1,500 calories and what I eat is weighed and measured and they even have a special ruler for it. The theory is that if I get skinny, I shall be well again. The proof that it is better to be skinny than round is theoretical and static.

The assumption is that the larger the belly, the more numerous the capillaries and the more pumping the heart has to do. So get skinny, says the doctor.

Do you live to eat or eat to live? What a silly question! If one only eats to live, he can fill himself with vitamins and hamburgers and spend his money on indigestion pills. I have for four decades eaten with considerable attention to esthetic values. Now I am told that a should have devoted my artistic emotions to some other art, such as ballet dancing which would have given me a girlish figure.

I refuse to count calories. It seems to me a miserly business like counting money. So, like all other unpleasant tasks, the old woman takes it on and does it too well because she is very efficient and refuses to cheat. It is exceedingly trying, when one is convalescing, to be controlled by a wife who will not cheat, not even a little. It seems to be that if one is arbitrarily put on 1,500 calories, the question could be asked, why not 1,564 calories?

The one task is to reject invalidism. Anybody can become a permanent invalid. It is not even necessary to be sick. All one needs to do is to grumble, have a pain here and there, make a noise about it, and frighten everybody that death is around the corner. So they all gather around and say, "Don't move!" They tie one's shoelaces. They help one up from a chair. They help one dress. They prevent one from falling when there isn't the remotest chance of falling.

This has to be fought hard if the convalescing person has any self-respect. There are, of course, many really sick people who cannot do anything for themselves. I do not refer to such. I am

Store Survey Proves Customers' Loyalty

Don't look now—but there are a couple of talkative individuals near the glove counter. They are sampling customer attitudes about three things dear to the hearts of department stores: C.O.D.'s, alterations, and gift wrappings. Do customers resent being charged extra for these services? Or don't they?

Results of such a survey show cause for celebration by management, if not customer. The New York University School of Retailing discovered that regardless of being asked for extra service, customers are always right in their Monday morning when the doors open. If they like a particular store, they remain loyal.

As reported in the current Journal of Retailing, the analysis showed that neither C.O.D. fees raining down, delivery charges snowing them under, nor gift wrapping expenses will deter customers from the orderly spending of Pop's bankroll.

The conclusion is an unhappy one for the buying populace—is that stores need not be timid about extra charges for extra services. These survey people probably know what they are doing, but it strikes me that heavy emphasis on paying-without-protest is beside the point. Once a customer is treated as a person, not an anonymous blob with bankroll, nothing short of 20 lashes will drive him from the portals of so friendly a store.

In this day of name brands and generally high quality merchandise in good stores everywhere, customers are attracted to the place according to their guest status. Which they are—by invitation. Other things being equal, there is really only one worrisome consideration—the transaction itself.

Inattention, insolence or weary tolerance from salespeople cannot put Humpty Dumpty to filling the cash registers. But genuine interest, unfailing courtesy—oh boy! When a transaction begins with a "How nice to see you again" expression, and concludes with mutual advantage to seller and seller—everybody's happy. Small wonder that satisfied customers don't balk at service charges.

If customers are guests, it wouldn't hurt them to behave like guests. Quit shoving, Madam. I was here first. Bargains or no bargains, we may not be invited back.

What's the oldest cockney story you ever heard? Bill Weber nominates the one about two cockney lads who were walking, a bit on the nervous side, through a dense forest. Suddenly a blood-curdling shriek rang out.

"Lor!" gasped one Cockney. "What was that?" "That was just a 'owl,'" chided his pal. "Of course it was a 'owl,'" retorted Number One. "But what I want to know is, 'oo 'owled'?"

Ever hear what one termite said to another? His exact words were, "Boy, this will bring down the house."

Oodan Nash once had this to say about some other termites: "Some primal termite knocked on wood. And tasted it and found it good. And that is why your Cousin May Fell through the parlor floor today."

Robert S. Allen Reports

Election Tactics For Farm Belt Changed By GOP Chiefs

Washington, April 3—Significant changes in electioneering plans for the explosive farm belt are being made by the Republican high command.

As a direct consequence of the heavy Democratic vote in the recent Minnesota primary, private polls showing the same is likely to happen in the Wisconsin primary, and the series of setbacks in the House-Senate conference committee on a compromise farm bill, the following campaign shifts are underway:

The budget of the Farm Division, of the GOP National Committee, is being increased to $300,000.

The division is being moved to Chicago, from the Washington offices of the National Committee.

Rollis Nelson, former assistant of Agriculture Secretary Benson, has been proposed as director of this much-enlarged and intensified political drive. National Chairman Leonard Hall and Benson are backing Nelson for this key job. The White House is still considering him. Party leaders who have asked about that have been told selection of Nelson rests on certain developments.

One of them is the final outcome of the bitter battle over the battered farm measure. Nelson was in charge of the National Committee's $250,000 advertising-publicity campaign during the winter to rally "grass-roots" backing for the Administration's flexible price-supports program. He took a leave of absence from Benson's staff for this purpose. Through a Chicago firm, quarter-page ads were placed in several thousand weekly and farm papers, and frequent daily "spot announcements" were scheduled with 140 radio stations. Numerous short broadcasts by senators and representatives were also arranged.

Party chiefs are divided on the effectiveness of this expensive effort. One Midwestern congressman, who is a member of the House Agriculture Committee, says he received only 32 letters and postal cards from farmer constituents in response to this drive, and 11 of them favored 90 percent price-supports. A senator from the same area describes his mail as "surprisingly light and a lot of it against flexible supports."

Nelson is a former South Dakota newspaperman, who came to Washington to work with the Senate Agriculture and moved from there to Benson's press adviser.

I guess it would be correct to say that "big men" also have long and accurate memories.

"Randy" has written many fine stories in the past and has received much praise for his work, but I doubt if any was ever more unexpected and any more appreciated. The letter now is no doubt among the Daily Record reporter's fondest souvenirs.

Mothers, Srs. To Be Guests Of Jr. Women

Tonight is Mother-Senior Night for the Junior Woman's Club to be meeting at 8 o'clock at the Stroud Community House. The program, arranged by Mrs. Howard Coslett will feature a humorous musical skit presented by the Chord Blenders, a quartette from Easton.

Club members are urged to bring their mothers or guests from the Senior Woman's Club to the party in their honor.

During the business session, members and their guests will also learn the results of the recent Storybook Bazaar for the benefit of the Day Care Training Center.

Mrs. William Reaser and Mrs. John Regan are co-chairmen of the hostess committee which includes Mrs. Gilbert Zager, Mrs. Gerald Snyder, Mrs. Earl Warner, Mrs. Robert Metzgar and Mrs. Edward Evans.

Dance Contests Mark Party Of Youth Center

The pre-Easter dance of the West End Youth Center held at Chestnut Hill High School featured not one but three dance contests. The jitterbug contest was won by Nancy Metzgar and Earl Budge; the "slow" dance by Barbara Beers and Fred Baumgartner; and the polka by Barbara and Carolyn Smith.

There was a good crowd attending the dance, and during the session directors for the following year were elected to represent the various sections represented in the Youth Center:

Hamilton, Nancy Metzgar; Saylorsburg, Dick Serfass and Earl Budge; Brodheads, Mike Vianello and Sandra Saffin; Effort, Judy Gould; Gilbert, Matty Held and Carolyn Smith; Scioto, Jamie McNett.

New Members Welcomed By Local Church

There were 19 young people joining the Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church at the Thursday night communion service. Included in the new communicants class were Susan Balmer, Patsy Bridge, Bethany Denning, Bonnie Fritz, Donna Grover, Susan Harl, Carol Kirkhuff, Mary Lou Lilius, Trina Marsh, Brenda Martin, Sandra Metzgar, Margaret Schell, Summer Bessler III, Charles Eyer, Donald Grover, Alan Raymond, John Savidge and Alan Serfass, and Miss Nancy Foley.

Adults who united with the church at that time were Mr. and Mrs. Horace Strunk; Dr. and Mrs. Harold F. Creveling, and Mrs. Lessie Gant, an affiliate member.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Everybody seemed to be resting up after Easter—and a peace of mind. The trick I fell for was the thread-on-the-coat chestnut. Except it wasn't a coat, it was Rod MacLeod's sweater, and the reason everybody else in the office laughed so heartily was because they'd all been caught by it much earlier in the day.

I practically made it unscathed, tumbling only at the last possible moment. The trick I fell for was the thread-on-the-coat chestnut. Except it wasn't a coat, it was Rod MacLeod's sweater, and the reason everybody else in the office laughed so heartily was because they'd all been caught by it much earlier in the day.

Well, since April Fool is past, and nobody can prove who's the biggest fool at last, maybe we'd better turn to more current topics. And nothing could be more current than our new crop of columnists with the Life of Riley getting more complicated with general instead of sports news, and Jack Hill going into Pocono profiles and Bob Clark launching into the field of sports.

April Fool would have been a good launching day for all of us, because a column can be a very foolish thing at times. It's a good thing ideas aren't visible because there are days when we'd all be scrambling for the same one if we could see it.

Meanwhile, I'll scoop them all with the news that Joyce and Olaf Pedersen are home from Portugal. Having visited in embassies and what not certainly makes their trip general news. And with Joyce's work in the state for polo she certainly rates as a Pocono Personality, and if we want to be sports-minded we can report that she returned to find her bowling team in third place, if you please.

Though with those scores, Bob Clark contends, that's strictly news.

As long as this has turned into an inter-office memo, we might as well conclude that in all this shuffling around of officials we've come up with everybody's ideal of a Big Boss, at least until Horace Heller gets over his laryngitis and gets his voice back.

Mr. and Mrs. George Andrew Dyson

Dippre-Dyson Wedding At Grace Church

Miss Doris Irene Dippre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dippre, of RD2, East Stroudsburg, became the bride of George Andrew Dyson, son of Mrs. Gladys Dyson and the late Willard Dyson, of Arlington Heights, Stroudsburg, at 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon before the brightly-lit altar of Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg. The quiet single-ring ceremony was solemnized in the presence of the immediate families and a number of intimate friends by Rev. William F. Wunder, Grace Church minister.

The bride was attired in a pale blue linen street length dress with Navy blue and white accessories. She wore a white rose-bud corsage. Mrs. Richard Dyson, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. She wore an ice-blue taffeta street length dress with matching accessories and a red rose-bud corsage. Richard Dyson, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

The mother of the bride wore a tan rayon wool suit with brown and white accessories and an orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a light blue faille street length dress with white accessories and wore an orchid corsage.

The bride was graduated from East Stroudsburg High School with the Class of 1950 and attended Churchman's Business College in Easton. The bridegroom attended Stroudsburg High School and served for six years in the U. S. Army in the Korean and Asiatic theaters. He is employed by Cameron Metzgar, a Stroudsburg contractor.

The newlyweds will be feted to a reception on April 14 at the VFW Home in Stroudsburg. They will make their residence in the Hartman apartments in Tannersville where they will be home to their friends.

Leftovers Tricked Out To Add Interest

When roast beef is on the menu for Sunday dinner, use some of the leftover meat this way:

Baked Roast Beef Hash
Chili Sauce
Green Peas Raw Carrot Sticks
Bread and Butter
Pineapple Beverage
BAKED ROAST BEEF HASH
Ingredients: 1 package (12 ounces) frozen mashed potatoes, 2 cups finely chopped roast beef (use knife for chopping), 1/4 cup finely diced onion, salt, pepper, butter or margarine, paprika.

Method: Heat potatoes in double boiler according to package directions; mix with chopped beef, onion, salt and pepper to taste. Turn into 8 1/2-inch glass pie plate; dot with butter; sprinkle with paprika. Heat in a moderate (375 degrees) oven until bubbling hot and top is browned—20 to 30 minutes. Serve at once with chili sauce. Makes 4 servings.

Gap Penny Supper

Delaware Water Gap—A penny supper will be held on April 4 at the Methodist Church in Delaware Water Gap, beginning at 5:30 p.m. Sponsored by the Women's Society of Christian Service, the supper will feature turkey and roast beef. The public is invited.

Add dry mustard, Worcestershire sauce and curry powder to a cheese soufflé for interesting flavor.

Brownies Borrow Buttons For Bean Bags

Stray buttons are finding a home under the hands of Troop 1 Brownies. Learning to sew on buttons is anything but dull when the buttons are sewed on bright bits of cloth, donated by a Brownie father, to make the faces which decorated the bean bags they are making.

Girl Scout songs accompany the stitching and the bean-stuffing. In between the patrols elected leaders. The elves chose Dale Vaughn, Peggy Ann Smith, Leslie McCloskey and Marion Sabinsky as patrol officers, while the Fairies elected Carole Gehris, Patsy Flory, Elaine Kauffman and Charlotte Wolbert.

The next meeting will be held on April 12 when members of Mrs. Audrey Cohen's Girl Scout Troop will share the fun. Mrs. Helen Dippre, Mrs. Lillian Acker, Mrs. Parke Kunkle, Mrs. Norman Vaughn and Mrs. Forrest Haney are the adult Scouts of the Brownie troop which meets at the Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church.

Dining Rooms Losing Out To Farm Kitchens

By Jane Eads

Washington—The name dining room no longer fits. This is especially true of farm homes across the country, according to the Department of Agriculture, which reports that a survey conducted by the Pennsylvania Experiment Station shows that only a few of the many families who had dining rooms ate there.

Instead, according to the report, dining rooms are being used for sewing and ironing, for play and for study by the children, or for family recreation. Most of the families (96 per cent) covered in the study of room use in farm homes in five communities had their meals in the kitchen.

In addition, it was revealed that far more time was spent by the family in the kitchen than in the dining, or even the living room. The dining room was rated as the room least used. Most families did much of their "living" in the kitchen, the report says, using it for a place to rest, have their meals, to listen to the radio, watch TV, read and visit as well as to do such varied jobs as cooking, canning, grading eggs, churning butter, canning chairs and even making soap.

The study, the Department of Agriculture, says, "indicates that before building, or making over a home today, farm families need to plan rooms according to today's use." This, it seems, might even hold true for homebuilders in urban areas.

Quilting Bee At Kunkletown

Kunkletown—The quilting bee of the Ladies Aid Society of St. Matthew Union Church was well attended Wednesday despite the weather. Mrs. Harvey Smale and Mrs. Earl Lobach supplied refreshments for the social hour.

Attending were: Mrs. Howard Christman, Mrs. Alvin E. Gower, Mrs. Floyd M. Smith, Mrs. Norman Berger, Mrs. Guy Connell, Mrs. Sula Peters, Mrs. Adan A. Bohner, Mrs. Sterling Drumheller, Mrs. Harvey Smale and Mrs. Earl Lobach.

Church Aux. Tonight

Delaware Water Gap—The Woman's Auxiliary of the Delaware Water Gap Presbyterian Church will meet tonight at 8 at the home of Mrs. Clifford Hauser.

Legion Aux. Prepares For Busy Session

American Legion Auxiliary of George N. Kemp Post will meet Thursday night at 8 at the home on Washington St. Members are requested to prepare for the meeting in four separate ways.

In the first place members are invited to meet at the Legion Home for an all-day work session on Wednesday to houseclean the kitchen. Secondly members are requested to bring their own dues, or dues they have collected and turn them in at this meeting. The third request is that members planning to attend the Past Commanders and Past Presidents Ball to be held April 14 be prepared to buy their tickets which will be on sale at this meeting. Finally any member having cookies to be served at the party at the Wilkes-Barre V.A. Hospital next Sunday may bring them to the meeting on Thursday night unless they prefer to bring them to the Legion Home early Sunday morning.

Miss Ludwig Home For Easter

Miss Helen Ludwig, a student nurse at Methodist Hospital, Philadelphia, spent the Easter weekend with her mother, Mrs. Lottie Ludwig, Stroudsburg. On her return she will spend 13 weeks on duty at the State Hospital, Philadelphia.

Among her former classmates from Stroudsburg High School who called while she was home was Danny Berman, now a student at Williams College.

List Projects, Programs For Womans Club

Invitations and projects will mark the April calendar for members of the Stroudsburg Woman's Club. The invitation to all the members to attend the Mother-Senior Night program of the Junior Woman's Club tonight at 8 o'clock at the Stroud Community House was repeated at the senior club board meeting held yesterday afternoon.

The Juniors annually plan a special program for their mothers and for the members of the senior club, and tonight is the night. All Woman's Club members are invited to be their guests.

The Woman's Club program meeting will be held on Monday, April 9. But meetings are only a small part of the month's activities for the club members. Mrs. Claude W. Leister, presided at yesterday's board meeting.

Mrs. Edward Knob, conservation chairman, who is working closely with the local flood control authorities, read an editorial which appeared in The Daily Record on flood control and also recommended books on flood control and conservation which she has placed in the club libraries for members who wish to inform themselves on the matter.

Flood Control Meeting

Mrs. Knob urged all interested members of the club to attend the meeting on Friday, April 6, to be held at the Court House for the purpose of forming the Delaware Valley Watershed Commission. The meeting will be held at 8 p.m.

Second major project for club members, and the general public, is the card party to be held on Tuesday, April 10, at 8 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Gerald O'Neill, 712 Thomas St. Open to both men and women, the party will feature table prizes and door prizes, as well as a special entertainment when local women will present a hula dance. Reservations should be made by calling Mrs. James Morgan, 295-M or Mrs. Walter Wertheiser, 2554-J.

April Kitchen Tour

Another major project—and the first of its kind to be tried locally—will be the Kitchen Tour to be conducted by the club on April 24 and 25. Tickets will be ready for the club meeting for distribution. The tickets will allow the purchaser to visit any or all of the kitchens of the community listed for the tour.

Board members present for the meeting included: Mrs. Claude Leister, Mrs. Edward Hess, Mrs. B. I. Fansler, Mrs. LeRoy Koehler, Mrs. Edward Knob, Mrs. Nelson Beers, Mrs. Samuel Wells, Mrs. James Morgan, Mrs. Walter Wertheiser, Mrs. J. Grady Moore, Mrs. John L. Rumsey, Mrs. Charles Everett, Mrs. Henry Hefele, Mrs. Harold Rinker, Mrs. Arthur Slee, Mrs. Paul Lloyd, and Mrs. Grant Nitrauer.

Miss Juliet Brussel

Girl Scout Leaders At Buck Hill

Miss Juliet Brussel, assistant director of the organization division of the Girl Scouts of the U. S. A., will be in Buck Hill Falls on Wednesday and Thursday. She will meet with a group of approximately 100 Girl Scout professional workers from Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, Virginia and the District of Columbia.

An expert in the field of council organization and administration, part of Miss Brussel's responsibilities include planning, coordinating and executing studies, experiments and other projects leading to the development of standards of structure for Girl Scout councils.

Except for the years of World War II, Miss Brussel has been active in some phase of Girl Scouting ever since she first joined a troop in 1930. She has served as an assistant troop leader and was a Girl Scout professional worker with the Dutchess County, New York, Girl Scout Council prior to joining the national staff in 1948.

In addition to her Girl Scout experience, Miss Brussel has been a teacher of physical education in New York City public high schools and assistant professor of physical education at Wilson College, Chambersburg, Pennsylvania. From 1942 to 1946, she served in the WAVES, and now holds the rank of Commander in the United States Naval Reserve. Her last Navy assignment during the war was as Officer-in-Charge of a WAVE quarters in Washington, D. C., housing over 4,000 enlisted women.

Miss Brussel, the author of "Primer for Girl Scout Councils" and other Girl Scout publications, is an honor graduate of Hunter College in New York and holds an M. A. degree from Columbia University in Teachers College. She has taken additional specialized work at the New York School of Social Work, and is a member of the National Association of Social Work and the Association of Girl Scout Professional Workers.

Former Card Club Members Invited To Reunion

A reunion of the remaining members of an old-time card club, the Get-together Club will be held on April 12 at the home of Mrs. Muriel Hughes, 548 Main St., Stroudsburg. Mrs. Hughes is attempting to round-up all the members for the reunion and to recall the good times they had together.

At one time there were 22 members of the club. Some have moved away and others have died, so that there are only 14 still in this section. Invited to the reunion are Frances Hackman, Elsie David, Janet Marsh, Helen Williams, Marge Snover, Mildred Fritz, Irene Tozillo, Jane Brimer, Edna Palmer, Pinky Catlin, Millie Slack, Sarah Mosteller, and Bess Mader.

Community Chorus To Sing At Temple Israel

The Community Chorus of 45 voices, under the direction of Dr. Earl Willhoite, will present a program on Sunday night, April 8, at 8 o'clock in the vestry rooms of the Temple Israel.

The program will be the fifth in a series of special programs included in a "package deal" launched this year by the organizations of the Temple Israel. Mrs. Larry Green is chairman of next Sunday's program, further details of which will be announced later.

Penn Church Women Study Child Care

Harrisburg—The care and welfare of 60,000 dependent and neglected Pennsylvania children will be discussed by more than 300 women meeting for the 23rd Conference of United Church Women, Phoenixville, April 17-19.

The Conference called by the Department of United Church Women of the Pennsylvania Council of Churches will represent the work of 115 community councils and 19 denominations. The state group will handle such other questions as: The Churches' Responsibility in Social and Economic Life; The Churches' Role in a World of Free and Equal Opportunity.

Mrs. Gaius J. Slosser, Pittsburgh, state chairman, said that the Conference is designed to provide a medium of fellowship in study, worship, and witness; further the purposes of the Department; review the place and contribution of women in the faith, life, and work of the churches; discover the role of women in interpreting current issues in the light of the Gospel; and serve as the channel through which county and community councils of united church women may be officially related to the cooperative work of the churches.

Seventeen state and national leaders will participate in symposium, panel, and discussion groups during the three sessions. Mrs. Mary Denman, Pittsburgh, legal consultant, Pennsylvania Citizens Association for Health and Welfare, will deliver the keynote address on "How We Build a Good World for our Children." The Rev. Kenneth L. Maxwell, associate executive director, Department of Inter-National Affairs, National Council of Churches, will address the service of ecumenical fellowship on "Things That Make for Peace."

How to build a good world for our children will be discussed within the framework of Pennsylvania's need for a more adequate child-care program, said Miss Eleanor Peterson, executive secretary of the Council's Department of United Church Women. Panelists will consider the roles of the churches, the court and the family in the achievement of a better world. She said that the final session will consider proposals for an action program that will reach more than 5,000 churches.

Miss Gordon Leads Local GS Leaders

Miss Jeanne Gordon, executive secretary of the Scranton Girl Scout Council, will lead the Adult Girl Scouts of Monroe County troops in program planning buzz groups at their Leaders' Club Meeting, Thursday, April 5, at the Stroudsburg Methodist Church at 8 p.m.

Miss Gordon is well-known to many of Monroe County Girl Scouts, and her recent training and experience will help her give much knowledge and enthusiasm to the eager adult leaders of local troops. Miss Gordon will bring with her other trained and experienced members of her office staff and council, who will help lead in the activities.

Mrs. George Wakefield, Leaders' club president will preside at the brief business meeting. The group will then divide into "Age Level-Senior, Intermediate and Brownie" patrols, and the Scranton Scout friends will lead in the "Buzzing". Mrs. Mary Gearhart, training chairman, and her committee have arranged this program, with the help of the club president, Adult Girl Scouts are urged to attend this exceptional opportunity.

Day And Night Shifts Work On Doughnuts

Kunkletown—The members of the Ladies Aid Society of St. Matthews Union Church turned their talents to the manufacture of doughnuts last Wednesday in a fund-raising project that succeeded admirably. One group, consisting of Mrs. Earl Lobach, Mrs. Floyd Smith and Mrs. Adan Bohner, spent the entire night in the church kitchen preparing for the activities of the following day.

They were joined in the morning by Mrs. Guy Connell, Mrs. Howard Christman, Mrs. Alvin Gower, Mrs. Alma Smale, Mrs. Sula Peters and Mrs. Elsie Derhammer. The latter two ladies prepared and served dinner to the rest of the workers and some 90 dozen doughnuts were produced which, however, were not sufficient to meet the demand.

Grace Aid Society

The Ladies Aid Society of Grace Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg, will have a luncheon meeting on Wednesday. The covered dish luncheon will be held at noon and followed by a meeting at 2 p.m. Important matters are to be decided and members are urged to be present.

Home League Easter Party At Salvation Army

The Home League of the Salvation Army met on March 29 for an Easter party at the Army hall. Mrs. William Vogler is president of the group.

The table centerpiece was an Easter egg tree, and each place was marked by a miniature flower pot with tulips and chrysanthemums.

Refreshments of Easter bunny cookies, jello with whipped cream topped with a candy bunny, and Easter egg cakes were served to the 14 members present.

Altar, Rosary Board

The executive board of the Altar and Rosary Society of St. Matthew's Roman Catholic Church will meet Wednesday night at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium.

Mrs. Charles Grace and Mrs. John R. Hauser will be the hostesses.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

"Hello, Mrs. Maloney," the little boy next door greeted me. "Happy Easter."

"Thank you, Bobby," I replied. "I hope you have a Happy Easter too."

"I will," he promised, "but you'd better watch your pocketbook—it's open."

That was the first time I was April Fooled. It wasn't the last, believe me! My children were on a regular April Fool jag all day long, and after a while it became a trifle wearing. It's bad enough to race to the telephone and find you'd been summoned needlessly... but it's even worse to refuse a telephone call and then learn it was legitimate... or to ignore a seemingly foolish warning that had been made (as you learn to your sorrow) in good faith.

All things considered, Easter was a pretty wonderful day, however. As though it weren't enough to have the particular blessings of the day, and weather as balmy as your bonnet demanded, there was the added thrill of seeing your children strutting proudly in their brand new glory, and hearing their voices ring with the excitement of a surprise-packed day. It pleased me to see that my fourteen year old is still as eager about the Easter egg hunt as he was at four... and to discover a few new hiding places for bunny eggs to momentarily baffle him.

The bunny at our house was particularly capricious this year. He didn't just hide eggs under cushions and behind chair legs, or in bread boxes and sugar bowls. He left them in the toes of boots, behind the pictures on the wall, and in the sockets where one ordinarily finds electric bulbs. For the old fellow that he is, he certainly gets around a lot... and I suppose he'll still have a pious humor when my three are helping him hide eggs for their children. The hide eggs is rather a pleasing one.

The rose Madeline Partlow was wearing on her scarf yesterday wasn't real. It looked real—so much so that a few glibbulous souls sniffed at it. But it wasn't. Roses don't usually smell of Chanel No. 5 and that one did... The Pickin' Chicken toys I mentioned on Saturday are like Annie. They don't live here any more. As a matter of fact, after the column and ad appeared, they literally flew out of the store. Three dozen disappeared like smoke on a windy day. According to Sunday's ads, one city store sells them, however—identical to ours too. Only they ask 1.25 in contrast to Wyckoff's price of 75c. What did I tell you about saving through shopping your favorite store?... If you don't think we sold handbags, look at this! Bea Gorgy said Saturday night, waving her hand toward the stockroom shelves. I am happy to report, the shelves were as bare as a newborn babe. And Elsie Miller's candy department was completely cleaned out. There wasn't enough chocolate left to give you a toothache if every tooth in your head had an exposed nerve. But our buyers being on the ball as they are, the situation will be well in hand within the next few days. Buying trips to New York are already scheduled.

Church Breaks Ground For School Unit

MOUNTAINHOME — At the close of the Easter Morning Service at the Mountainhome Methodist Church, ground was broken for the new Educational Unit, to be erected as an addition to the present building. After a litany of dedication by the Pastor, Rev. Harold N. MacMurray, the first spadeful of earth was turned over by Mr. John C. Smith, president of the Board of Trustees of the Church. Mr. Smith was followed by Mr. Warren E. Miller, Sunday School Superintendent, Dr. Herbert A. Lorenz, chairman of the Church Commission on Education, and the Pastor. Members of the congregation were then invited to participate. The ceremony closed with the singing of the Doxology. At the Morning Worship Service, the senior choir, under the direction of Mrs. John R. Nauman, and with Mrs. Warren E. Miller at the organ, sang "The Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's "Messiah," and "Early in the Garden" by Wilson. The junior choir, directed by Mrs. William A. Price, sang "The Holy City." The Rev. MacMurray's sermon was "Is This the Christ?" The attendance overflowed the capacity of the church, and there were many who heard the entire service while in their cars, in the parking lot adjoining the church, over the public-address system installed for such occasions. The Sunrise Service had also taxed the capacity of the Church to its full.

On Good Friday, the Three-Hour Service in the Mountainhome Church was described by the Rev. MacMurray as being the largest in point of attendance in the seven years of his pastorate. Mr. MacMurray was assisted in this service by the Rev. Edgar B. Moore, pastor of the Canadensis Methodist Church. The theme of the messages was "The Seven Words of Christ from the Cross." The choir sang, after each message, the appropriate portion of the sacred cantata "The Seven Last Words" by Ritter.

The Educational Unit is being built to meet the increased enrollment in the Sunday School whose facilities are now overtaxed. In addition to the new building, extensive alterations are being made to the basement of the present Church building, including a new kitchen, men and women's rest rooms, a choir robing room, and additional class rooms. On the main floor, the nursery and beginners departments will have increased space and facilities. Minor changes will be made in the church sanctuary. The work is made possible by a grant of $25,000, from the Kresge Foundation in Detroit, through Sebastian S. Kresge, a member of the Mountainhome Church. This grant will cover about one-half of the total cost of the improvements and new furnishings. Contract has been let for the building to Lloyd R. LaBar, and work is scheduled to be completed by July 1st.

Freight Car Shortage Noted

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—Owen Clarke, Interstate Commerce commissioner, said today freight car shortages occur because a few railroads consider it cheaper to rent cars than to own them. He told a Senate commerce subcommittee that the earning value of an average freight car is many times the current per diem charge of $2.40.

PP&L Buys New Tract Of Land

PENNSYLVANIA POWER & Light Company recently completed purchase of a 766-acre tract of land 15 miles below Harrisburg for future use as a power plant site, Mr. Charles E. Oakes, the utility's president, announced yesterday. The actual purchase followed more than a year's investigation of the site to determine foundation conditions, stream flow and other suitability factors.

Mr. Oakes emphasized that purchase of the land on the west bank of the Susquehanna River near York Haven and directly across the river from Bainbridge, does not necessarily mean the utility expects to build a power plant of any type there at the present time or in the near future.

Ground Work "But, to insure a continuing supply of electric power for Central Eastern Pennsylvania we must lay the ground work for new generating station capacity years in advance," the PP&L head said. He pointed out that long-range plans are an integral part of the utility's operations. In its planning for the future electrical requirements of its 10,000 square mile service area, PP&L projects these needs many years ahead on a broad basis with the plans becoming more definite as the customer needs become more evident.

Although no immediate use of this new plant site is contemplated, any plans for utilizing this new site will be announced by the company as soon as they develop.

India Launches Five-Year Plan

NEW DELHI, India, April 2 (AP)—India today officially launched its second five-year-plan—a 15-billion-dollar drive to make this underdeveloped country industrially strong.

Today also marks the effective date for a new companies law which gives the government wide controls over almost every phase of private and corporate business activity in India.

Large Crowds Mark Observance Of Easter Season At St. John's Lutheran Church

LARGE CONGREGATIONS marked the observance of Good Friday and Easter at St. John's Lutheran Church. More than 600 members received the Holy Sacrament at the several services according to an announcement by the pastor, Rev. P. N. Wohlsein D. D.

Special music was featured at the Easter services and the confirmation class of Palm Sunday received first Holy Communion in a body. The special Easter offering amounted to more than $1,000 to be used for Lutheran World Action in providing relief to stricken peoples throughout the world.

Afternoon On Good Friday at the Three Hour Service, a total of 796 were in attendance at the service, in which a number of Lutheran pastors from the area assisted the pastor. This was purely a devotional service with no music except the singing of hymns.

Wanted! One Fish— Dead Or Alive

ANYONE knowing of a dead or artificial fish that will wiggle when shaken and which doesn't smell, is asked to contact the Mask and Zany Dramatic Club at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College. The college's spring play "Strange Boarders", due to be presented April 12 and 13, has need for such a fish.

Donald Olivetti, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Olivetti of Wind Gap, is chairman of properties and is at present wrestling with the problem.

Family in the play lives on a wharf and catches many of its dinners with a fishing pole and outfit which it has protruding through the window. The pole is tied to the top of a rocking chair, and a catch of decent size rocks the chair and the family is told of a coming meal. On two occasions the story calls for a fish to pull the line and to be hauled in through the window. (Oh, yes, there have to be two fish—a big one and a small one.)

Now, a live fish would be just the thing (assuming the club could get a live fish) but after consultation, the club members decided this wasn't very good on the fish, and it didn't seem very sporting to pull the same fish in several times. Besides, the ASPCA might come in and stop the show. Incidentally, the ASPCA was not officially contacted.

Property House

A call to one theatrical property house in New York brought the answer that they used to have an artificial fish which they rented out, but the last party hadn't returned it. So now they have no fish.

Well, this fish story may seem pretty hopeless but the club has a few tricks up its sleeve. One is to fashion a fish out of some kind of pliable material with a back bone made of a loose spring, and the other is to make a special net just the size of the fish. The fish would be placed inside the net and the end of the net tied to the end of the line. This would give the fish a chance to wiggle without any wear and tear on his biceps. The play must go on, so a way will be found. A few of the more commonplace property lines which the committee will be hunting are a dress-maker's dummy, an old-fashioned sewing machine, a school bell, a fire bell, a violin, etc., etc.

U. S. Railroad Heir Expires At French Villa

JUAN-LES-PINS, France, April 2 (AP)—American railroad heir Frank Jay Gould, the "sad millionaire" who created the gay Riviera resort of Juan-les-Pins, is dead.

Death came on the dawn of Easter Sunday for the 78-year-old expatriate who inherited 10 million dollars and whose financial astuteness gave him an income estimated by some of his friends at $115,000 a day. His exact fortune was not known.

Recluse

Gould died at his villa "Soleil d'Or"—Golden Sun—where he had been almost a recluse for many years. He had been bedridden since 1954 and in recent days was kept alive by injections. Uremia was given as the cause of death.

His wife, Florence, was at his side when the end came. He had been married twice before.

United Nation Blocs, Groups, Caucuses Now Cover All But Three Of 76 Member Countries

By William N. Oatis
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., April 2 (AP)—Bloc, groups and caucuses have been sprouting and growing so fast in the U.N. lately that they now cover all but three of the 76 member countries.

There are at least six such groupings, and only Nationalist China, Israel and the United States stand aloof.

The latest to come into being is the European caucus, organized within recent weeks. It sits as a group but prefers not to be called one. It includes 18 countries. The oldest, the Latin-American group, takes in 20 countries and is thinking about inviting the romance-language European countries, France, Italy, Portugal and Spain, to some of its discussions.

No Strength

It was the only caucus that gained no strength when 16 new members were voted into the U.N.

last December. The Soviet group, which votes as a bloc but dislikes being called one, grew from five to nine members, and the Asian-African group from 17 to 23.

The Arab League section of the Asian-African caucus rose from six to eight. The Commonwealth group, which overlaps the Asian-African and European conglomerations, increased from seven to eight. The most striking overlap is that of Turkey, which meets with both the Europeans and the Asian-Africans.

Issues

The Commonwealth delegations meet monthly in great secrecy. The Latin Americans and the Asian-Africans also hold monthly meetings. The Europeans occasionally call sessions but are not so secretive. They do not let reporters in but generally tell afterward some of the things they have done.

Most of the meetings are at U.N. headquarters.

Results of consequences have come out of some of the meetings. The Asian-African group has achieved something near unanimity on anticolonial issues raised by its members in the General Assembly.

The three outsiders are not entirely isolated. Nationalist China has a close friend in the United States. The United States, on major political issues, usually commands the support of much of Europe and Latin America. Israel gets sympathy from several quarters.

Besides the geographical and political groupings, there are Britain, France and the United States, which work together on Palestine issues, and the 16 U.N. members that fought in the Korean War, which consult whenever that comes up.

County Tavern Association To Hold Banquet

BARTONSVILLE.—The fourth annual banquet of the Monroe County Tavern Association will be held here at the Bartonville Hotel Thursday, April 26, at 7 p.m. A program has been planned.

Reservations

Reservations are to be made on or before April 18.

The banquet is limited to 300. First come, first served. Informal dress is the order of the day.

The banquet committee consists of Harry Bolch, chairman; May Hamilton, Dan Serfass and Sal Garisto.

Agriculture Department Officials See Little Hope For Proposed Soil Bank Help This Year

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—Agriculture Department officials reported today they see little opportunity for the proposed new soil bank to help farmers this year.

Accordingly, they are looking through laws already on the books to see what they might use to good effect.

Officials who said the soil bank benefits have a slim chance of operating this year based their belief on the possibility President Eisenhower might veto the farm bill now in the making, or there might not be enough time to put the soil bank into effect.

System

The system proposes paying farmers $1,200,000,000 a year for taking land out of production of crops already in surplus. However, the planting season has already begun.

In other farm developments today:

1. Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) invited "liberal Republican voters" to cross party lines in the Wisconsin presidential preference primary tomorrow. The contender for the Democratic presidential nomination said:

"I believe that Wisconsin's farmers will receive the warm support of other Wisconsin voters in utilizing Tuesday's primaries as an opportunity to register their just protest against the sorry performance in office of the present administration."

2. A House Agriculture subcommittee proposed that small family-type farms be given government price supports at 100 per cent of parity. This is a proposal Kefauver used to good effect in the March 20 Minnesota primary.

Parity

Parity is a standard calculated to reflect a fair price to the farm producer in relation to the cost of things he must buy.

The pending farm bill provides for a one-year return to a rigid mandatory system of 90 per cent supports for basic commodities. Secretary of Agriculture Benson has predicted that Eisenhower will veto any rigid price support measure.

Benson contends it was high price supports that led, in large part, to the accumulation of billions of dollars worth of farm surpluses. He and Eisenhower are committed to a flexible support system, based on supply and demand.

Under the flexible system, however, they could still move this year to get higher income in farmers' pockets by raising the supports now in effect. For example, wheat is now supported at 76 per cent of parity.

79,207 women in this area have "SWITCHED" TO MODERN ELECTRIC COOKING

Our recent "Survey" conducted in this area proved 79,207 women in this area have SWITCHED to Modern Electric Cooking... and they told us these "reasons why"—

"My electric range is CLEANER. My walls, curtains, paint, ceilings stay clean as well as my pots and pans."

"I wouldn't have anything but electric because it's so SAFE. There's no flame, no danger to my children."

"I find electric cooking more ECONOMICAL. I have no more cooking failures; less meat shrinkage; less waste when I cook on stored heat."

"It's truly AUTOMATIC—even cooks a complete meal while I am away from the house. I'm able to get out of the kitchen!"

"My new electric range is the most heavenly pink to accent my modern kitchen color scheme. I love the new electric range COLORS."

"I prefer electric cooking because it is ODORLESS. There are no fumes."

"My electric range is COOL. It cooks the food and not the cook. I find it especially comfortable in hot weather."

"No other cooking method gets such quick results—I like it because it is FAST."

"Only an electric range is so ACCURATE. My switch settings are the same every day—there is no guesswork."

"I insisted upon an electric range because it SAVES WORK. Easy to clean—one-piece porcelain top, no sharp corners, no cracks, one-piece oven liner. Even the units are self-cleaning."

"My electric range is a big TIME SAVER. I can go on about my other duties with assurance that controlled heat will keep my food cooking smoothly. No need to watch it."

"There's no sticking of food to the bottom of pots or pans, because just the right amount of heat is provided."

THE FIRST column of a sports writer in any assigned area usually is the hardest to put down on paper. But for some unknown reason we feel our inaugural effort will be the easiest.

Not that this unrehearsed bit of bluntness will enlighten the folks of this vicinity, but, we hope, it will tend to serve notice we are not a stanger.

In our humble estimation, this locale blooms with some of the best fans in the whole wide sports world. And these diehards are backing some of the finest personalities in the likes of your coaches, athletic directors and players.

Sometimes the fans, sports bosses, mentors and participants form a vicious circle. However, this is generally an exception to the rule. On the whole, the relationship between all four is adequate, although, at times, not soothing to the frame of mind.

This tendency to not agree also will apply to yours truly and our readers. We don't expect all to follow our advice, neither do we feel we have the right to criticize or laud without justification.

If we have gripes then they will be based on facts; if we are in a praising mood then, they too, will come from statistical or qualified records.

If, however, we bow to records that don't coincide with ability, this writer will attempt to clarify the misleading figures.

If ever a writer was blessed with a good amount of news sources in his opening venture here then this scribe is one fortunate man.

Let's take a quick look at the already accumulated acquaintances and you will see a sportsman's Who's Who gracing the Stroudsburgs and their surrounding suburbs.

For example No. One there is T. Manning (Cap) Curtis, the boss of sports at Stroudsburg High School. Cap, a former coach, has seen many athletes come and go at the roadside institution, and could give out enough tales to fill this space for years to come.

Then comes Jerry Stulgaitis, the Mountaineers baseball coach. We remember Jerry when then he was sporting the nickname of "Whitely." And that was when the ex-Stroudsburg grid mentor was a Little-America end at St. Thomas College in Scranton. Our recollections of Whitely (excuse us, Jerry) picture one of the best flankmen ever to wear a college football suit.

Staying out at Stroudsburg High we can put our finger on John Whitehead, the Mountaineers' grid successor to Stulgaitis. John, a former schoolmate at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, is still young enough to be remembered as one of the bulls of not too long ago Warrior-elephants. We are sure that the Whitehead spark which ignited the Hill squads will reinvent itself in future Mountaineer grid squads.

In keeping with the Stroudsburg athletic rundown we find another friend in John Kupiec. Although we wrote a column a year or two ago condemning John's strategy in a basketball game with Palmerton we feel his explanation later proved to us that maybe the article was written in haste.

Jumping over the Broadheads Creek into East Stroudsburg High we have come across one of the best high school football coaches in the state in Jack Kist.

Kist, to our way of thinking, has done more with less than any high school grid tutor we've come in contact with while covering schoolboy games hereabouts the past five years.

It seems, and it has been proven many-fold that Kist can and does come up with a fine representative eleven each year season.

An Easton area coach told this writer awhile back that Kist is by far, the best teacher of fundamentals in the Lehigh Valley. This tribute came from a man who isn't exactly rated an also-ran in the coaching fraternity.

While we have only scraped the top of the barrel in letting loose with a few words on five sports individuals known to us, this scribe believes that the character and teachings of the above typifies the mold of those not mentioned.

As we go along we intend to bring out in print the accomplishments of the ones "by passed" in this opening column.

During our tenure here we do not expect to agree wholeheartedly with every movement, tactic and opinion of the "subject of the day." But after all it is written we hope to still count the offended as friends.

Of the 66 players listed on the West Virginia University football roster, 38 are native West Virginians. Only four live more than a 75 mile drive from the campus.

Veteran Pros Expected To Pace Masters Golf Field

By Hugh Fullerton Jr.
AUGUSTA, Ga., April 2 (P)—Two of the brash young men who have been contributing to the downfall of golf's old guard were added to the field for the 20th Masters tournament today, but they didn't alter the belief that the veterans will be out in front again when this test of golfing brains and ability ends next Sunday.

Ortega Upset By Smallwood In 10-Rounder

NEW YORK, April 2 (P)—Brooklyn's Hardy (Bazooka) Smallwood stretched his unbeaten streak to five tonight by edging favored Gaspar Ortega, 20, of Mexico in a qualifying television 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena. Smallwood weighed 157, Ortega 152½.

An 11-5 underdog Smallwood, 23, dropped the Indian for a nine-count in the fourth round and piled up a good lead in the first half of the toughest to earn the unanimous decision.

Everyone Agrees
The two judges, Artie Aidala and Artie Schwartz, each had it 5-4-1. Referee George Walsh scored it 6-3-1. The Associated Press had Smallwood in front, 6-4.

A right that had all of Bazooka's power behind it caught the tall Ortega flush on the jaw in the fourth. Gaspar bounced against the ropes and fell to the canvas where he took the count of nine on one knee.

Carl Duser, Pitcher; Jim Finigan, Second baseman; Tom Saffell, Outfielder.

PINNING HOPES ON 6 VETS, ROOKIE AND CASTOFF — Lou Boudreau, manager of the Kansas City A's of the American League, hopes that veteran hurlers Arnie Portocarrero, Bobby Shantz, Alex Kellner and Art Dittmar, will spell the difference in the A's attempted climb up the ladder from their 6th place standing of 1955. Others high in Boudreau's plans are Carl Duser, rookie pitcher, third-year man Jim Finigan, an infielder, and former Pittsburgh Pirate outfielder Tom Saffell.

Spring Training Action Marred By Complaint Of Shoulder Pains By Cards' Hurler Mizell; Finigan, Piersall Shine On Other Fronts

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., April 2 (P)—The complaint of an aching shoulder by pitcher Vinegar Bend Mizell put a damper today on a 6-4 St. Louis Cardinal victory over the Chicago White Sox, featured by a three-run homer in the ninth by Red Schoendienst.

Mizell, a southerner counted on for heavy duty this year by the Cardinal management, was walked for four runs in the sixth inning on four hits, a walk and an error. He left the game in the ninth, complaining of an ache in his pitching shoulder.

After examining Mizell, Cardinal trainer Bob Bauman expressed belief it was nothing more serious than "just tiredness." Bauman said Mizell should be ready for action again within a few days.

Giants Nip Indians
ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., April 2 (P)—Daryl Spencer's eighth-inning single scored a tie-breaking run and gave the New York Giants a 7-6 exhibition victory over the Cleveland Indians today.

A crowd of 4,036 braved 40-degree weather to see the game. Play began under snow flurries but at the finish the sun was out.

Dusty Up To 426
The Giants' Dusty Rhodes collected two doubles, two singles and a walk for a perfect day to lift his spring batting average to .426.

Nuxhall Hurls Shutout
TAMPA, Fla., April 2 (P)—Southpaw Joe Nuxhall allowed Detroit only four harmless singles today and the Cincinnati Redlegs won an easy 7-0 decision over the tigers.

Joe Bedenk, veteran member of the coaching staff, will field his 26th baseball team at Penn State in 1956.

Braves Rap Farmhands
WAYCROSS, Ga., April 2 (P)—The Milwaukee Braves clouted four homers good for six runs in the seventh and eighth innings today to clobber their Wichita, Kan., American Assn. farm club, 11-7.

3 Join All-Stars For 'Trotters Tilt'
HERSHEY — The names of John McCarthy, of Canisius; Hal Perry, of the University of San Francisco, and Jerry Bird, of Kentucky, have been added to the roster of the College All-America, for their World Series of Basketball fracas against the Harlem Globetrotters at the Sports Arena here tomorrow night.

McCarthy, who averaged better than 21 points per game and led his club into the semi-finals of the NCAA Tournament play, was runner-up to Tom Gola last year in the balloting for the most valuable player in the NCAA tourney.

Perry was the spare-plug of the University of San Francisco's NCAA title holders and one of the mainstays in the Dons' record breaking streak of 55 wins.

An ironman performer, Bird went the route fifteen times this past season for the Wildcats. Chosen on the Southeastern Conference All-Star club, he is a fine rebounder and a terrific outside shooter.

Resigns As Coach
EDINBORO, Pa., April 2 (P)—Art McComb, head coach and athletic director of Edinboro State Teachers College, announced today he is relinquishing his coaching duties.

In addition to coaching football, McComb has handled the swimming, golf, track and basketball squads. A new head coach is expected to be named soon.

Legion Bowls Today
THE AMERICAN Legion Bowling League will swing into action today at the Pocono Bowling Center, Stroudsburg, starting at 9 p.m. Alleys one and two—Gold Bricks vs. Sad Sacks.

Alleys three and four—Air Corps vs. K. P.'s.
Alleys five and six—Prudential vs. Ray's Service.
Alleys seven and eight—Jokers vs. Commandos.

will include Red Schoendienst at second, Ken Boyer at third, Bill Sarni as the No. 1 catcher, and Musial and Bill Virdon in the outfield.

An over-simplified summary of the situation at the undecided positions:
First base: Moon is a good hitter but isn't a standout fielder. Tom Alston is a good fielder but can't hit. Joe Cunningham can do both but he can't hit as well as Moon nor field as ably as Alston. Grammas has Edge Shortstop: Both Alex Grammas

Loop Formed In Volleyball At Local YM

BILL McDONALD, Stroudsburg YMCA athletic director, announced yesterday that a volleyball league composed mostly of teams from area industrial plants, has been organized.

The newly planned circuit, which will play all of its games at the Y's new gymnasium, is slated to open its session Wednesday, April 18.

McDonald, in making the announcement, noted that the league will be limited to eight teams and that an entry fee of $5.00 will be assessed each applicant.

Probable Entries
Current plans show the probable entries as teams representing Patterson-Kelly, International Boiler, Ronson, Bell Telephone, Line Material, Worthington Mower, Wyckoff's Store and East Stroudsburg State Teachers College Faculty.

Further information for possible applicants may be secured at the YMCA office.

Whitney Horse Ups Hopes In Derby Via Win
NEW YORK, April 2 (P)—Head man, one of C. V. Whitney's big hopes for the Kentucky Derby, lived up to expectations today when he charged home in the last 30 yards to capture the $21,400 Experimental Free Handicap by a scant neck at the Jamaica Race Track.

A chilled opening day crowd of 40,492 saw Head Man, with Jockey Eddie Arcaro in the saddle, edge Nail, the 1955 two-year-old champion owned by Mrs. Anson A. Bigelow.

Polly Jet 3rd
The third horse was Polly's Jet, who set all the early pace and led until the final eighth of a mile. Polly's Jet, owned by the Barclay Sable, then gave way and Nail led briefly until Head Man shot down the outside to take the victory.

Big Favorite
The crowd had established Head Man, a roan son of Eight Thirty-Snowfall, and a stablemate, Born Mighty, as the big favorite. The entry paid $4.20, $2.70 and $2.10. Nail paid $4.10 and $2.80. Polly's Jet finished a length and a half back of Nail and paid $2.80 to show.

Step Up Drive For Packer Park
GREEN BAY, Wis., April 2 (P)—Volunteers today stepped up their doorbell-ringing campaign to get out a "yes" vote on tomorrow's $960,000 bonding referendum to provide a new stadium for the Green Bay Packers.

Most observers in the city—smallest in the National Football League with a population of only 52,735—figure the referendum will pass, but by a slim margin.

Threaten To Leave
Officials of the Packers, an institution here for the past 37 years, have threatened to pull up stakes within the next few years if they don't get a new stadium.

Reeders Ball Club Meets Tomorrow
THE REEDERS baseball club of the Pocono Mountains League will hold a squad meeting at the Reeders Hotel tomorrow, starting at 8 p.m.

Team officials have extended a special invitation to new candidates to attend the session. Old members also are urged to be present at the meeting.

Congressman Dan Reed, of New York State, coached football at Penn State for one season—in 1903.

Sees No Excuses For Twain Not Meeting At Top Races

By Whitney Martin
NEW YORK, April 2 (P)—East is east and west is west and there will be no excuses for the twain not meeting henceforth in the Kentucky Derby, the Preakness and the Belmont Stakes, even if cautious thoroughbred owners, rather, owners of thoroughbreds, fail to file early entries for all three triple crown events.

When Belmont Park recently agreed to take supplementary entries for its share of the triple crown for 3-year-olds it cleared the path for these hesitant owners. The Preakness has accepted supplementary entries for some time.

The past couple of years have demonstrated the importance of the Belmont action, as the Kentucky Derby winners have come out of the West for that big race, and then promptly retreated to the West because they had not been entered in the Belmont. Consequently there was no chance of a triple crown champion.

Kentucky Only
Western owners, possibly a little apprehensive of their steeds' chances against the big, bad eastern thoroughbreds, entered their horses in the Derby, and that's all. When—surprise, surprise—they found they could win the easterners, it was too late to bid for the Big Three.

Not since Citation turned the trick in 1948 has there been a triple crown champion, and he was only the eighth since 1875. The others were Sir Barton, 1919; Gallant Fox, 1930; Omaha, 1935; War Admiral, 1937; Whirlaway, 1941; Count Fleet, 1943 and Assault, 1946.

It was quite a blow to turfmen who consider the triple crown as the last word in the test of 3-year-old greatness when Determiner won the Derby in 1954 and Swaps won last year. Determiner was bred in old Kentucky, but is California owned. Swaps is an out-and-out California product.

Belated Entries
It is not improbable that both horses would have stuck around for the Preakness and the Belmont had it been possible for the owners to file belated entries for both events. They could file a supplementary entry for the Preakness for $7,500, but they couldn't go for the triple crown because at the time the Belmont had no such provision. The New Belmont rule accepts such an entry for a $5,000 fee.

There is a certain glamor about the three events, at that, and, spaced over a period of about two months, and run over distances from a mile and a half to a mile and a half, they do provide a real test. A long shot might conceivably win one of the events, but if a thoroughbred wins all three, well, he ain't no lucky stiff, as they say.

Derby Is May 5
The Derby is scheduled May 5 this year, with the Preakness May 19 and the Belmont winding up the competition June 16. Exactly 100 horses have been made eligible for all three, with the $100,000 Preakness outdrawing the Derby in individual nominations, 176 to 169, and the Belmont luring 132 colts.

Assured now that their horses can hold their own, or better, in any competition, California owners are boldly bidding for the crown this year. Andy Crevelin, who skipped westward after winning the Derby with Determiner, has made his best two 3-year-olds eligible for the three events. They are Document, a son of Citation, and Swift Boots.

Mish Tenney, who trained Swaps, has two horses from the same stable he hopes will bid for the crown. They are Terrang and Like Magic, the latter a full brother of the 1955 Derby winner. Anyway, no matter which horse wins the Derby this year, it's a safe bet he'll go in the other two events to prove it was no fluke.

E. S. Ladies To Roll

Kist's Nine Will Hold 2 Drills Today

EAST Stroudsburg High's baseball team will attempt to get a full scale workout schedule under way today when the Cavalier diamond hopefuls come together for a drill at 10 a.m. on the high school field.

Another practice session is scheduled for this afternoon, starting at 2 p.m.

The Cavaliers of Coach Jack Kist, defending PIAA, District 11 champions, held a workout yesterday. However, only a light turnout reported for the session.

Supply Of Peanuts For Ballpark Dips

WASHINGTON, April 2 (P)—Baseball fans will have fewer peanuts to nibble on this summer.

The Agriculture Department reported today that supplies of the type sold in the masted, unshelled form at ballparks is smaller than last year. Known as the "virginias", production of this type declined last year.

Westinghouse To Launch Giant Advertising Program

NEW YORK, April 2 (AP)—Westinghouse Electric Corp. announced today a 32-million-dollar program of advertising and promotion in a massive effort to recapture its markets after a paralyzing five months strike.

The 32 million dollars is the largest advertising appropriation in the company's 70-year history and 33 per cent more than the previous record of 24 million in 1955. The bulk of the money is earmarked for promotion of consumer goods.

Production
Westinghouse also has embarked on a "crash" production program to fill its supply lines to distributors and dealers, virtually dried up by the strike.

40 Enter Teen-Age Road-EO

MEMORIAL Stadium in East Stroudsburg will be the site for the second annual teen-age Road-EO to be held Saturday under sponsorship of the Pocono Jaycees.

To date, 40 boys and girls have registered to compete in the contest, according to Stanley G. Grace, contest chairman. Additional entries will be received until noon on Saturday, Grace said. Other members of the Jaycee committee are Mac Below and David Crane.

The contest will get under way at noon with all contestants taking a written test on practical driving questions. At 1 p.m., four skill tests will be given to the young drivers.

Honors
The winning contestant will receive a trophy and a trip to the state contest in Hershey in June. Second and third place winners will be awarded plaques and certificates of merit.

All boys and girls 16 through 19 years of age are eligible to compete provided they have a driver's license and haven't been convicted of a traffic violation within the last six months.

Grace said the winner of the state contest will be given a large trophy and an expense-paid trip to Washington, D. C., to compete in the national Road-EO in August. The national winners will share $3,000 in college scholarships.

Civil Defense, Observers To Hold Meeting

A COMBINED Civil Defense director's meeting and Ground Observer meeting will be held in Court Room number two, of the Monroe County Court House tomorrow.

The director's meeting will convene from 7 to 8 p.m. Also present for this group meeting will be members of the Monroe County Ground Observer Council. The main Ground Observer program is scheduled for 8 p.m.

At a recent meeting of the Civil Defense Ground Observer Committee a county Ground Observer Council was formed. Clarence Seip, 28 N. 4th St., Stroudsburg, was unanimously elected president of the Council.

According to Seip, it will be the purpose of the Council to review problems that pertain to the various GOC posts located in Monroe County and to secure the utmost cooperation of all Ground Observer forces within this district. Ground Observer posts now located within Monroe County include the following: Stroudsburg, Kunkletown, Brodheadsville, Tobyhanna, Signal Depot and the Interstate Bridges.

Members of the Monroe County Ground Observer Council include: Seip, president; Thomas Kistler, CD director of Zone three; J. Fielding Vollers, CD director of East Stroudsburg; Ray Hartman, CD director of Smithfield Township; Ray Davies, County Headquarters staff; Summer Bossler, County Headquarters staff; Earl Palmer, county GOC chief; M/Sgt. Stanley Mick, Air Force Filter Center, Harrisburg.

Agenda
On the agenda for the Ground Observer meeting tomorrow will be instructional procedures to be used in the activation of the Stroudsburg post, now located on top of the A. B. Wyckoff building. This post is expected to be activated on April 8, in time to take part in the state GOC alert which is scheduled for that date. M/Sgt. Mick will have charge of this part of the meeting. He will also show a film on the work of the Ground Observer Corps.

Highlight of the evening will be the presentation of awards. Judge Fred W. Davis, Monroe County CD director, will address the group and assist in the award ceremony, together with M/Sgt. Mick, Air Force Filter Center, Harrisburg, and other state Air Force officials.

Coveted silver wings representing 300 hours of Ground Observer service will be presented to Lillian Counterman and Nina Counterman. Wings representing 100 hours of Ground Observer service will be presented to the following: Elsie Solotruk, Edith Wadano, Kenneth Roeder, Rudolph C. Blitz Sr., Hazel S. Achteman, Earl Palmer, Carroll V. Doll Jr., Winfield S. McCain.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

TUESDAY, APRIL 3, 1956
March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Today is restricting, advises against emotional aspects. Familiar matters, your daily tasks can move smoothly if you are wisely serene, and pay attention to urgent matters.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)—No unfriendly rays in your sector, but Sun and Moon, in signs of stress, need for a circumspect attitude and proper attention to essentials.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)—Day advises cooperation and generosity in thought and action. Some may be irritable, selfish; don't you be and you will find help.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Don't be overconfident or careless in anything. Calm planning and a not too demanding schedule will result in some gain.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—Avoid overconfidence. Day will return more to your work in your usual pleasant, efficient way. A day for medium achievement.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—Familiar duties, those for which you have training and skill, most favored now. New, different undertakings may take unbalance, nervous help.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Does not pay to be in moderate or overconfident. You are over-enthusiastic, really can succeed at any honorable occupation if you train for it. Birthdate: John Burroughs, poet, naturalist; Washington Irving, man of letters; many noted journalists.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio)—strongly stress calmness, understanding, patience. Irritating influences may be upsetting to exercise graciousness, clever management.

November 24 to December 21 (Sagittarius)—Not too helpful aspects today so much will be up to you and how you execute your schedule. Extra caution in financial agreements, etc.

December 22 to January 20 (Capricorn)—This need not be troubling, nor is it too generous a day for many things BUT this need not detract from industrious folks from doing what is well planned and thus progressing.

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius)—Should be productive than for trades, all work with which you are familiar. However, extra care is urged in hazardous activities. Don't dally over unimportant details.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces)—Nervous rays could be more helpful with your assistance, especially in confidential matters, intuitive, preparations and where keen judgment is essential. Don't overdo, don't worry.

YOU BORN TODAY are keen, intelligent, brain-workers; can improve methods, ideas, or create new valuable ones. Careless mistakes, quick temper. Avoid any "hard it over" tendency; eliminates unwise associates from your company. You are enterprising, really can succeed at any honorable occupation if you train for it. Birthdate: John Burroughs, poet, naturalist; Washington Irving, man of letters; many noted journalists.

MECO Earns Two Awards At Chicago

OUTSTANDING sales promotional activity by Metropolitan Edison Co. in cooperation with local appliance dealers was recognized at the 22nd Annual Sales Conference of the Edison Electric Institute in Chicago recently when the local utility was presented the George A. Hughes and the George Westinghouse Awards.

The Hughes Award, which originated 22 years ago to encourage and promote all-electric living, was presented to MECO for "pioneering greater acceptance and appreciation of the matchless comfort and convenience enjoyed by the public through electric cooking." All of the nation's utility companies were eligible to submit their 1955 range sales programs for consideration in the competition, and MECO's "Electric Range Spectacular" of last spring was chosen as the best conducted by any utility in the country serving less than 250,000 customers.

Offered to electric utility operating companies "to recognize and stimulate outstanding performances in the promotion of electric laundry equipment," the Westinghouse Award likewise was competed for by all of the nation's leading utilities. MECO won second place in this competition for its "Dryer Buyer Days Campaign" of last fall.

Presentation
The trophy and plaque were presented by George W. Ousler, chairman of the E.E.I. Awards Committee, to Robert W. Smith, MECO's residential and farm sales manager. In accepting the awards, Smith paid tribute to appliance dealers in this community who, by cooperating in the extensive sales campaigns sponsored by the utility, set a record in sales of electric ranges and clothes dryers.

"This is evidence of the success of a new approach to selling taken by MECO last year," Smith said in explaining that MECO has heeded its selling efforts directly to the customer in order to develop more business for local appliance dealers.

In following this new approach, Smith said, the company developed a well-coordinated advertising and promotional program to interest everyone in the benefits of electric living and encouraged prospects, thus developed, to buy from local dealers.

Smithsonian Institute Reports Taxpayers Own 230,000 Termites Collected Over Years

By Arthur Edson
WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—The Smithsonian Institution counted up today and reported that we lucky taxpayers own 230,000 termites, one of the largest such collections in the world.

It includes 1,286 of the 2,000 known species, and has been built up over many years by the Department of Agriculture.

Now the Smithsonian has taken over not only the collection, but its collector, Dr. Thomas E. Snyder, who at 71 and after 46 years of termite study, still has a lively interest in the subject.

And why, doctor, this interest in termites?

All Branches

Well, the Smithsonian goes in for all branches of knowledge. But the termite collection is practical, too. Each day, Dr. Snyder figures termites do more than a quarter-million dollars damage to buildings in this country. Termite extermination has become a multimillion-dollar business.

The United States has 41 species of termites, but others could sneak in. So it's important to have a collection handy for a quick check on unwelcome immigrants.

Dr. Snyder says most people still think termites are tropical, and it's true they grow some dandies in that belt. One African queen is four inches long and two inches wide and, to hear Dr. Snyder describe her, she must be quite a bug.

But termites are found almost everywhere. The only way to be completely safe is to build in the arctic or antarctic.

Termites first set up housekeeping on earth some 50 million years ago. For millions of years they performed a useful service, changing dead wood into usable plant food.

Then man came along to upset the balance of nature. And when the woods were cut down, the termites hungrily moved into man's buildings.

Forestry

Dr. Snyder said he started out to be a medical doctor, like his father, but his mother objected. She thought he ought to have a job that would take him outside more, and so he switched to forestry.

Anyone interested in bugs, Dr. Snyder admits, has to put up with a lot of guff. "I started collecting back in school," he said, "and I had a friend who collected beetles. We took an awful kidding."

Even today, as a highly respected entomologist, Snyder has learned that a small, white lie will save considerable time and confusion.

"We'll be out in the woods, chopping into trees, hunting for termites, and some farmer will come up and say, 'Whatcha doing? Cuttin' fish bait?' I just say yes, and let it go at that."

Stock Market Shows General Advancement

NEW YORK, April 2 (AP)—A fairly general advance was staged by the stock market today as it nudged ahead of its previous historic high.

Trading was heavy as leading stocks established gains of around 3 points while losses ranged to around a point or so.

Aircrafts and motors, however, were not in the parade and the rail division was mixed.

Despite the generally bright picture among pivotal stocks most price changes outside this circle were fairly narrow and the grand total of gains was by no means topheavy.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained 50 cents to reach a new high of $190.90 compared with its previous high of $190.50 reached March 23. The industrial component advanced $1.20, the rails declined 10 cents and the utilities were unchanged.

Concern

Warren said Congress has "treated seditious conduct as a matter of vital national concern," and "in no sense a local enforcement problem."

Justice Reed wrote a dissenting opinion which Justices Burton and Minton joined.

"We cannot agree that the federal criminal sanctions against seditious conduct are of such a pervasive character as to indicate an intention to void state action," Reed wrote.

Nelson, long a Communist party functionary, was convicted in state court in Pittsburgh. He received a 20-year prison sentence. The Pennsylvania Supreme Court set aside the conviction, holding the Smith Act superseded the state's seditious law. Pennsylvania appealed, asking the U.S. Supreme Court to reinstate the conviction. Instead, the high court affirmed the Pennsylvania Supreme Court.

Subsequent to his conviction in state court in June, 1952, Nelson was convicted in federal court there in August, 1953, of violating the Smith Act. He received a five-year sentence on the federal charge. His appeal from this conviction will be argued in the Supreme Court next fall. Nelson is at liberty under bond.

Forty-two states, Alaska and Hawaii have seditious laws of one kind or another. Arizona, Missouri, North Dakota, South Carolina, Oregon and Washington are the only states which do not have such laws.

Attorneys general of 27 states filed legal briefs urging the Supreme Court to uphold the right of states to prosecute for sedition.

Other Action

In another action today, the Supreme Court declined to review a court order calling for immediate ending of racial segregation in elementary schools in Hillsboro, Ohio.

The action, however, may have come too late to have any bearing on the present school term and Hillsboro plans complete integration by next fall.

Also today, the court agreed to review a decision of the U.S. Court of Appeals here that a union may use "harassing tactics" during contract negotiations to bring

Supreme Court Pulls Teeth Of State Laws Of Sedition By Throwing Out Conviction

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—The Supreme Court today pulled the teeth of state sedition laws. It said they have been superseded by federal legislation.

Dividing 6-3, the court threw out the conviction of Communist leader Steve Nelson in a state court under Pennsylvania's seditious law.

After reviewing the 1940 Smith Act and subsequent federal laws, Chief Justice Warren, speaking for the majority, said:

"Looking at them in the aggregate, the conclusion is inescapable that Congress intended to occupy the field of sedition. Taken as a whole, they evince a congressional plan which makes it reasonable to determine there is no room left for the states to supplant it."

"Therefore, a state sedition law is superseded regardless of whether it purports to supplement the federal law."

Concern

Warren said Congress has "treated seditious conduct as a matter of vital national concern," and "in no sense a local enforcement problem."

Justice Reed wrote a dissenting opinion which Justices Burton and Minton joined.

The action, however, may have come too late to have any bearing on the present school term and Hillsboro plans complete integration by next fall.

Also today, the court agreed to review a decision of the U.S. Court of Appeals here that a union may use "harassing tactics" during contract negotiations to bring pressure upon an employer to yield to its demands.

The National Labor Relations Board filed the appeal, saying the decision threatened to impair the process of collective bargaining.

Involved in the case is an NLRB ruling that the CIO Textile Workers Union was not bargaining in good faith with the Personal Products Co., which has a plant in Chicago.

The board said the union's tactics included organized refusal to work overtime, slowdowns and unannounced walkouts. The Court of Appeals, overturning the NLRB, said "there is not the slightest inconsistency between genuine desire to come to an agreement and use of economic pressure to get the kind of agreement one wants."

State Tops

Requirements

NEW YORK, April 2 (AP)—A Look Magazine survey today showed Pennsylvania exceeds minimum basic health requirements.

The magazine said its survey listed Pennsylvania among 22 states that do better than the bare minimum.

Criteria

The criteria for determining minimum health needs was based on the number of physicians, nurses and beds in the state for the population involved. Look estimated every 100,000 individuals in a state need 143 doctors, 222 nurses and 500 hospital beds to meet the minimum requirements.

U. S., Canada Gain Ground

MONTREAL, April 2 (AP)—Canada and the United States are catching up with Russia in arctic research, President Louis O. Quam of the Assn. of American Geographers said today.

Dr. Quam, naval research officer from Washington, was interviewed, before the association's five-day annual convention opened. He said:

"There is no question but that the Russians are ahead of us in arctic geographical research. They have been putting great emphasis on it since the 1930s. But Canada and the U. S. are rapidly catching up."

Russia Forcing Communists To Swallow Kremlin Edict

By J. M. Roberts
Associated Press News Analyst
DEVELOPMENTS AT THE London disarmament conference inevitably led to wonderment whether Soviet Russia has swallowed her own line that Western prosperity is based on a war economy and will crumble without it.

Her latest proposals, if read against the background of her appeals for cooperation from the world's Socialists, with their traditional pacifist leanings, represent a new frontal assault on Western theories of collective security through strength.

Reductions

Russia is proposing manpower and other arms reductions which go far beyond what the West considers either wise or attainable at this time.

She is forcing Communist parties throughout the world to accept the Kremlin edict that Stalin and his methods were bad. The British Reds have just done so, in oblique and strained fashion, by expressing confidence in the Russian party. They are willing to help the British Labor party oust the Conservatives in the belief that they can then swallow Labor. They are encouraged in this by the trouble the Labor party is having with its own extreme left wing.

With Socialists in power in more Western countries, the Reds believe they can greatly interfere with the Allied defense program even where they cannot take direct power themselves.

This would have two purposes. One would be to re-create a situation in which Russia could, if it seemed profitable, renew her program of coercion through the display of military strength.

The other would be to make a new assault on Western economic systems tied in with the indirect campaign which has been going on for several years to cut the West off from its sources of raw materials in what the Communists continue to call "colonial" areas.

Russia's continuing faith in an eventual collapse of Western economy, permitting Communist infiltration, seems now to be largely wishful thinking. The depression for which the Reds have been hoping was prevented after World War II, and was escaped by the United States after the Korean War.

Position

They are in a position to keep testing and pushing, however, even on the off chances.

The Reds are operating much more smartly than they did under Stalin. In making economic advances to underdeveloped countries they are taking a page from the Allied book. In propaganda they are showing a great deal better understanding of Western attitudes.

By these tokens they have become infinitely more dangerous, and every move they make must be studied against the background of their one great objective — world domination.

French Seek

Auto Tunnel

PARIS, April 2 (AP)—Premier Guy Mollet's government is going to propose to Parliament that France build an automobile tunnel through Mt. Blanc, the highest peak in the Alps. The 15,781-foot mountain is on the borders of France, Italy and Switzerland.

A similar plan was laid before the Parliament that expired last year but it was never enacted.

A 200-pound hog contains 21 pounds of shoulder meat.

Flames Damage White St. Home

A CHIMNEY fire caused an estimated $200 damage to a home on White St. yesterday at 9:30 a.m.

Stroud Township firemen used a high-pressure fog line to subdue the blaze. The home is owned by Mrs. John Angleyer and occupied by Dorothy Lisette.

Airlift To Begin

MONTREAL, April 2 (AP)—The Royal Canadian Air Force will begin its annual spring airlift to U.S. Canadian weather stations in the arctic April 11. It will ferry more than 1 1/4 million pounds of supplies.
